SENSATIONAL SALE AT BRANNING'S

Establishment Closed to Reopen Saturday at 8 A. M.

The large clothing store of Winston S. Branning has been closed since Thursday morning preparatory to the big sale which opens Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Branning, when interviewed by a reporter of THE STAR, stated that his entire stock of $15000.00 will be closed out at cost, to make room for spring goods, and that he intended to cut the prices on goods to a point that would make the people buy in large quantities.

This will undoubtedly prove of great benefit to the public who are never slow to take advantage of an opportunity such as this sale affords.

Mr. Branning says he has prepared for a great crowd and hopes to serve all properly during the sale. We bespeak for him a gigantic business as he has always carried the most reliable quality of goods, the kind that gives satisfaction.

The stock consists of men's and boys' clothing, hats, caps, boots, shoes and furnishings and ladies' and children's shoes and hosiery.

Every family should avail themselves of the opportunity to secure some of the goods while this sale lasts.

JULIUS KLINE SELLS OUT QUILTS BUSINESS RETIRES

This statement comes like a bolt from a clear sky. No one knew it. He hardly dreamed it himself. But, realizing that his well placed real estate investments give him a comfortable income he has suddenly decided to quit the mercantile business and enjoy his competency and have time to see more of his friends and enjoy life.

Mr. Kline simply knows when he has enough and gives up the mercantile business to enjoy life.

Mr. Kline will devote his time to real estate, and Titusville is to be congratulated on having his energies behind her up-building.

Coming here seventeen years ago, a poor unaided young man, hardly out of his teens, among strangers and alone, with no one he could go to for aid or consolation, he battled his way from the ranks to be the head of Titusville's mercantile life.

Through good years and bad he fought his way. He started humbly, honestly and industriously, adding a little each day to his stocks.

These were hard days to Julius Kline, but gold to be pure must go through the crucible, and his labors and his sufferings brought their reward. His store has grown until for years it's stood head and shoulders ahead of any mercantile establishment for miles around.

The selling out of Julius Kline makes sad the hearts of thousands of appreciative customers who looked upon Kline's as their trading home.

Julius Kline remembers, and time can't make him forget those who have traded with him, helped him in his fight for success.

He bows his thanks and hopes to grasp their hand and thank each one personally during his closing out.

The die is cast.

The secret is out.

The business is in the hands of The Mill-Factory Syndicate, and their manager, Mr. Watson, has closed the doors, to open Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Their orders are to sell out the entire stock at cost and less.

See the doors swing open and the goods waltz out.

Come for price list.

Open Letter From Mr. J. Henry

Titusville, Fla., Dec. 27th 1909.

Hon. B. R. Wilson, Mayor, Titusville, Florida.

Dear Sir:—Will you kindly advise the city council at its next meeting that I will not qualify as city assessor, so that they will be enabled to elect an assessor, under section 19 of the new charter.

My reasons for declining to qualify, is, that under section 45 of the new charter, the assessor is required to commence the assessment on April 1st and continue until July, under section 21 it is continued to August, under section 54 it runs to October.

As it has been my desire, if I so wish, or my health requires, to take such a vacation in summer as I may deem advisable, I feel that the length of time required by the new charter to perform the duties of assessor legally, prevents me from filling the office, and I do not wish to make an assessment that may be questioned on that score as legal.

I would appreciate it if the board would make my reasons for not qualifying public.

Thanking you all for past kindness and favors, JOHN HENRY.
